DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. The Declaration under 37 CFR 1.132 filed 6/21/06 is sufficient to overcome the rejection of claims 1 and 2 as set forth in paragraph 3 of the Office Action mailed 3/21/06. Accordingly, this rejection is withdrawn.
2. Applicant's request for reconsideration of the finality of the rejection of the last Office action is persuasive and, therefore, the finality of that action is withdrawn.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1 and 2 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over JP - 6-273925 [reference AU of the Information Disclosure Statement filed 6/28/05] (JP '925) in view of US 5,294,516 to Sato et al. (Sato). JP '925 discloses a photoresist film for forming phosphor patterns on a fluorescent display, wherein the photoresist composition comprises a base polymer, an ethylenic unsaturated compound, a photopolymerization initiator and a phosphor. To obtain the phosphor patterns the photoresist composition is applied on a film, laminated on a glass base having a conductive circuit, exposed, developed and calcined. See the abstracts; and paragraphs [0004], [0005] and [0014] of the computer-generated translation enclosed with this Office Action. However, JP '925 does not disclose a photosensitive element comprising a filling layer.

Sato discloses a light sensitive transfer material comprising a peel-off support, a thermoplastic layer (corresponding to the filling layer of the present invention), an intermediate layer, and a light sensitive resin layer arranged in this order. See the abstract; column 2, lines 12-19; column 2, lines 41-57 and column 4, lines 39-45. It would have been obvious to one skilled in the requisite art to provide thermoplastic layer between the support film and the light-sensitive resin layer, as taught by Sato, in the photoresist film of JP '925 because it is taught that the presence of a thermoplastic layer provides for the transfer of a light-sensitive layer from a peel-off support to a permanent support without causing poor transfer due to dust, bubbles or unevenness on the permanent support.

Response to Arguments

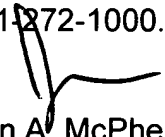

4. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1 and 2 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
